Youth Justice Services

PRIVACY NOTICE

Nottingham City's Youth Justice Services adopt a multi-agency approach to the prevention of offending and re-offending. We use a victim-centred approach to support the reintegration of young people who offend into their families and wider communities.

If you are unhappy with a decision regarding the handling of your data, you have the right to complain to the Information Commissioners Office at Wycliffe House, Water Lane, Wilmslow, Cheshire SK9 5AF. Also see the Information Commissioners website at <https://ico.org.uk/your-data-matters/>

For more information about these rights please refer to our detailed privacy statement at <http://www.nottinghamcity.gov.uk/privacy-statement/>

Youth Justice Staff use the information you provide to undertake assessments, complete reports, develop interventions, share information and inform the way that the Youth Justice Service provides services to you and your family as defined by the Crime and Disorder Act 1998.

The legal basis under which the Youth Justice Service uses personal data for this purpose is that it is necessary for the performance of a task carried out as required under law as specified by the Courts, in the public interest or in the official authority vested in the Youth Justice Service and Nottingham City Council.

Information you provide may include several categories of special personal data, for example racial or ethnic origin, health or sexual orientation. We also collect criminal data and we take special safeguards in relation to this. Information in these categories is used by the Council on the basis that such use is necessary for reasons of substantial public interest and in accordance with the provisions of the General Data Protection Regulation and Data Protection Act 2018 and other relevant legislation, e.g. The Children Act 1989.

Information provided by you may also be shared with other partner agencies (e.g. Courts, National Probation, Health, Education, Police) where it is necessary for the Youth Justice Service to be able to carry out its legal duties.

In order for us to be able to do our job and to deliver our service effectively, we do need to record certain information. We will keep the information that you provide until it is no longer needed to manage your case or to quality assure our work with you. Depending on your involvement, this can be up to 25 years after we have finished working with you.

In certain circumstances, information you provide may also be used for other Council functions. Details of these functions and the legal basis for using information for them can be found at <http://www.nottinghamcity.gov.uk/privacy-statement/>

The Data Controller is Nottingham City Council, Loxley House, Station Street, Nottingham NG2 3NG.

The Data Protection Officer is Naomi Matthews. You can contact the Data Protection Officer at the above address or email to: information.compliance@nottinghamcity.gov.uk

The new data protection law known as the General Data Protection Regulation provides for the following rights:

- A right to request a copy of your information
- A right to request rectification of inaccurate personal data
- A right to request erasure of your data (known as 'the right to be forgotten')
- A right to request restriction of processing (in certain circumstances)
- A right in circumstances to request portability of your data to another provider (in certain circumstances)
- A right to object to processing of data in certain circumstances
- A right regarding automated decision making including profiling
